Pages 2 and 3 contain the sensible things that have been done by the Roosevelt administration.

Reducing Col. Ryder's speech to the Rotarians in Winona to its essence, he said, "Stop this latrine gossip."

Congratulations to General Maloney who, upon hearing of many marooned people in the area West of Oxberry, said that the Army was prepared to help, and sent some boats and men to rescue the people in that flood-stricken area.

I am hereby adding another favorite to my list: a favorite WAVE, Miss Virginia Collins, who is the Recruiting Officer at the post office. This does not disturb the status of any of my other favorites.

Folks living on Pine Hill do not seem personally disturbed about the water.

The Lockett-Tripplett romance shows no sign of waning.

Our girls have transferred from the 301st to the 302nd Inf.

Cousin Hortense has returned from a two-weeks' visit to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scott in Muskegon, N. D.

Mr. Voile says if you eat lemons, you will not have to sit on the curb.

Mr. Clifton Morrison of Chicago is visiting his mother, Mrs. S. A. Morrison, for a few days, this being his first trip South in two years.

Louie Friedman has been sharpening his mind.

The old Groundhog is looking after the den this week while Mr. Weir is away in Washington to see Jim Eastland and other politicians.

I wish to report that, so far as I know, Kent and Frances and Ralph Semmes led good lives while in Hot Springs. In fairness, however, I did not see them from the time they put me out at my hotel until they picked me up at the same place.

I have a serpent in my own bosom, my old lady. She is hitting it hard for the WAVES while I am always bragging on the WAVE. I guess I will just have to live her.

It looks to me as if the sheriff's deputies are doing good jobs. Certainly the record shows that they are letting the bootleggers pay their salaries and, in addition, putting a surplus in the county till.

Pumps were busy in Grenada this week drying out basements of various buildings. Hellacious is the best word to describe the rains we have had.

I understand that 40 out of 53 white men sent to Shelby Saturday were accepted.

Now city taxes and the guess of the 1944 federal taxes face us! If it is not one damn thing, it is another.

Speaking of little boys, what has become of marble playing, kite flying, top spinning and other sports they used to indulge in.

My faith in Tom Abernethy was not in vain, as I let him ride on about two years, but, upon notification, he came across like a man.

When in Hot Springs I sent a postal card to "The Spilled Child, All Saints College, Vicksburg, Miss." and it was promptly delivered to Caroline. They too must know her.

Some of the ladies of the evening have, like the Arabs, furred their tents and gone off into the unknown night, if that is what the Arabs did.

So many people ask, so I will answer. The new City officials go into office on May 16. There are few changes, however.

His many friends will be glad to know that Mr. G. E. Staples, formerly a merchant at Elliott, but for the past four years a merchant in Yalobusha county, is now on the police force in Greenwood.

I hear by grapevine even while over here in Hot Springs that two gals had a fight. They should join the WAVE if they want to fight.

I imagine if Tommie Rose can get his old lady to help him at the Tom-o-doo Cafe, he will sit down and eat his dinner at straight-up 12, as he used to do when he had Sue and Ruth to do the work.

For the first time since last November the bottoms of my feet are clean.

Captain John B. Vickery Wins Further Honors

From Somewhere in England, we have received the news that John B. Vickery, recently promoted to Captain of the United States Army Air Force, has completed his 25th bombing mission over Nazi Europe.

Captain Vickery, a native of Grenada County, holds the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters for meritorious achievement during combat with the enemy.

Leap-frogging in steep dives and climbs after having 16 feet of horizontal stabilizer and all of the right elevator knocked off over Northwest Germany, Captain Vickery's Portress, on one flight in June staggered home to its English base. The wounded four-engine bomber's erratic flight evades attacking Nazi fighters.

The American Red Cross War Fund Drive is nearing its close, the closing date being March 31, 1944. We are only lacking a few hundred dollars in the way of meeting our County's quota and Grenada County has always met their past quotas so with the help of those who have lagged behind on this campaign, Grenada County will uphold the tradition of its past.

Juchheim Receives More Awards In England

AN EIGHTH AAF FIGHTER STATION, ENGLAND—First Lieutenant Alvin M. Juchheim, of 737 College St., Grenada, Miss., has been awarded two additional Oak Leaf Clusters to his Air Medal for "Meritorious service in aerial flight in the completion of twenty operational sorties over enemy occupied Continental Europe." The Mississippi fighter-pilot had been previously awarded the Air Medal and one Oak Leaf Cluster in December, 1943.

A veteran flier with one of the oldest Thunderbolt P-47 fighter groups over here in England, Lt. Juchheim received the Clusters from his group commander, Colonel James J. Stone, Sr., of Westfield, New Jersey, during a recent ceremony held on their Eighth Fighter Command base.

The group Lt. Juchheim is with has been flying operationally against the German Luftwaffe since early in April, 1943. They have completed over 140 sorties against the most heavily defended areas in the world—comprising all of France, Germany and a large section of occupied Europe, in the so-called "Big Leagues" of aerial warfare.

Lt. Juchheim's group has destroyed over 100 German aircraft since it began combat operations in this theatre of war.

Mainly the group's role has been an escort one. They have taken the hard-hitting Flying Fortress and Liberators deep into the German Reich, protected the bombers while right over the target, and then brought the B-17's and B-24's all the way back to their English bases. Recently the group has gone out as "diva bombers" and has plastered airfields in France with 500 lb bombs. Their seven-ton Thunderbolt fighter plane, the world's largest single-engine fighter and, additionally, having the greatest fire-power with its eight fifty-calibre machine guns, has proven itself at all altitudes against the best planes the Axis has over here.

Lt. Juchheim, 22-years old, is a graduate of Grenada High School, and attended the Sunflower Junior College prior to enlisting in the USAAF. His wife, Mrs. Jane C. Juchheim, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Juchheim, reside in Grenada.

Just in passing, I want to say that the Greenville bridge spanning the Mississippi River is one of the prettiest bridges I have ever seen with the possible exception of the bridge that Roy Bickerstaff and I built over the Yalobusha north of Holcomb.

HELLACIOUS HAIL AND RAIN HIT GRENADA AND HINTERLANDS EARLY THIS WEEK

Farm Bureau Meeting Here Saturday, April 1st

A meeting of Grenada County farmers is called at 3 o'clock on Saturday, April 1st at the Agricultural Building, by Mr. Groce Carver, President of the Grenada County Farm Bureau.

This meeting is urgent, so plan to attend.

Remember the time and place.

War Food Program Needs Your Cooperation

Mississippi farmers all over the state are now executing their farm plans and indicating the part they want to have in the huge War Food program for 1944. T. M. Patterson, state AAA administrator, said.

In addition to the regular 1944 AAA program, the War Food Administration has assigned many new duties to that agency. Under its Special Service program of farm machinery, farm building, the AAA deals with the rationing, supplies, fertilizer, tractor fuel, and similar items affecting agriculture.

While it is not necessary to execute a farm plan sheet or otherwise cooperate with the AAA program in order to receive consideration under the Special Services program, the administrator said that the farm plans do furnish needed information to the War Food Administration in determining agricultural requirements and to County USDA War Boards in making recommendations to local Selective Service Boards, concerning the classification of agricultural registrants.

WAVE Recruiting Officer Here

Miss Virginia Collins will be in Grenada this week and will endeavor to contact young ladies interested in serving their country in the WAVE. Woman's branch of the U. S. Navy.

To any young woman interested in this work and who is 20 years old and can stand the physical test and are of good character, wonderful opportunities are offered you. Large Eastern colleges are open to those enlisting in the WAVES, and aside from the patriotic aspect of it, for the men who are serving in the sea, young women are trained in crafts which have life time value.

See Miss Collins at her office for a personal interview.

John Edward Clack Died Last Thursday

Mr. John E. Clack, a highly respected citizen of Beat Two, died last Thursday, March 23, 1944 at Grenada Hospital, after an ailment covering many months.

He was born September 6, 1861 in Yalobusha county. His parents, all brothers and sisters have passed away, leaving only a few cousins to survive him.

He was an honest, hard-working man who attended strictly to his own business, and was universally liked by his neighbors. He never married.

Burial was held at Goshen Church in Yalobusha County on March 24th with the Methodist minister from Coffeeville in charge.

Holcomb Seniors Present Class Play

(By A. Y. McBride)

The Senior Class of the Holcomb Consolidated High School will present the class play, "THE MAN IN THE MOON" on Friday evening, April 7th in the High School Auditorium. The play consisting of three acts, is presented by special arrangements with The Willis N. Bugbee Company, of Syracuse, New York. The play is under the direction of Superintendent McBride. The cast is made up of the following: Franklin Ross, Betty Jane Cresswell, Margaret Neal, Emogene Goodson, Juanita Berry, Marene Taylor, Madeline Fultz, James McNeer, Florence Little, Robert McBride, Jean Keasler, Fred Moody Lawrence and Rufus Childs.

Dear Mabel: please do not get on any new committees while I am away. You have your hands full with the GCW.

A most hellacious rain and hail storm, accompanied by one of Nature's greatest electric displays hit Grenada Sunday night and Monday morning, stalling cars, tearing away the first abutment east of the main span of the old steel bridge across Bogue (officially condemned by the Board of Supervisors some time ago, according to our information), raising the water level of Perry Creek and other tributaries of Bogue-Yalobusha river system to unprecedented levels, flooding lowlands, ruining gardens, and, in general, raising the devil with man's puny plans.

Following the rainless Monday, heavy rains fell all night Monday and well into the morning of Tuesday.

Some persons reported that both Bogue and Perry Creek waters reached lands never before reached by the flood waters.

As this is written, about 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, water is about 13 inches deep at the intersection of Main and Second Streets.

Hail, while heavy, did small property damages compared to the property damages in Memphis.

If there was an imperfect place in any roof in Grenada, this rain found it.

It is expected that large acreages of land along the Yalobusha River will be inundated.

Developed in the new, but unoccupied USO building, causing much of the plaster to fall.

This statement is made by the writer: water is higher in Grenada than he ever saw it. Others report that it lacks a foot or two of being as high as THEY have seen it.

Railroad service between Grenada and Greenwood has been discontinued until much work is done.

LATER

Another heavy rain fell Tuesday night, but Wednesday was clear and cloudy.

In Grenada all of Pearl Street behind the Dock and Owens property was under water. Evacuation of a number of homes of colored people in that area was necessary.

No. 7 Highway from its intersection with 51 Highway was under water and it is feared that considerable damage was done to some of the bridges.

A landslide on the Grenada side of the overhead bridge on the Peavine railroad blocked traffic there. Water was over the road at Mundy Gap on No. 7 West. It was reported from Dumbard that the only way they could get to Grenada was via Winona.

Water covers the highway through the Yalobusha bottom north of Holcomb, and it is reported that water is up to the eaves of Lum Butler's home.

It is reported that a serious leak in travel between Grenada and Calhoun City has been discontinued due to the reported presence of two feet of water over No. 8 Highway.

Also reported, 500 bales of cotton had to be moved from the lower levels of the Federal Compress.

Reported, too, was 14 inches of water in Spotless' new tin building.

Wednesday afternoon, after hearing that several hundred people in the area south and west of Oxberry were marooned by the highest water ever known in that section, Major General Maloney of the 94th Division dispatched a number of men and boats by way of the hill route to take the water at the water's edge South of Oxberry and with aid of local guides proceeded to rescue the marooned people in the 30 odd thousand acre area now inundated. The writer who knows that country well believes that it is now exceeding the highest water in 50 years. As for the level of the water in Grenada itself, opinions vary.

THURSDAY MORNING

The boats sent in by the 94th Division plowed thru the waters below Oxberry Wednesday night and rescued about 40 persons. The soldiers are still in that area. From what he has learned, the writer concludes that the water in that area is higher than at any time since 1892.

The Red Cross has erected 27 tents near Bellflower church to take care of negroes rescued from lowlands in the Grenada area.

The water fell in Grenada about an inch Wednesday night, but a second rise is expected.

Final Report of Cotton Season

Census report shows that 10,700 bales of cotton were ginned in Grenada County, Mississippi from the crop of 1943 prior to March 1, 1944, as compared with 10,308 bales for the crop of 1943.

ROGERS-RUFFIN

Of interest to their many friends is the marriage of Miss Tina Ruffin, of Jackson, Tenn., to Lt. Jansen H. Rogers, of Camp McCain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers, of New York City. The double ring ceremony took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Evans on Snider Street, the Rev. C. A. Pharr, Presbyterian minister, officiating in the presence of a small group of friends.

The charmingly decorated home featured large basket arrangements of pastel hued gladiolus flanked by floor candelabra holding white tapers to form the improvised altar in the living room. Other rooms of the home had decorations of lovely dogwood blossoms.

The lovely bride chose a Spring frock of gold with a tiny flower hat and veil. The dress featured the new low neck line and her corsage was a lavender orchid.

The bride's attendant was Miss Velma Rivers, a friend from her home town of Jackson, also her room-mate. The groom was attended by Mr. Frank Evans as best man.

Mrs. John Griffith Hardy presided at the piano, playing the accompaniment for two lovely vocal solos, "Because" and "I Love You Truly," sung by Miss Louise Smith.

What is the Charles A. Coffin Foundation?

THE PURPOSE of the Charles A. Coffin Foundation is to encourage and reward distinguished achievement in the electrical field by "prizes to employees; by recognition to lighting, power, and railway companies for improvement in service to the public; by fellowships to deserving graduate students; and by the grant of funds for research work at technical schools and colleges."

Establishment of the awards was announced twenty-two years ago in a statement issued by President Swope and dated December 2, 1922.

"On May 16, 1922, Charles A. Coffin in his 78th year retired from the active leadership of the General Electric Company. Mr. Coffin has been identified with the development of the electrical industry since 1882. He was the founder and creator of the General Electric Company, of which he has been the inspiration and leader for thirty years."

"As an expression of appreciation of Mr. Coffin's great work not only for the General Electric Company but also for the entire electrical industry and with the desire to make this appreciation enduring and constructive as Mr. Coffin's life and work have been, the Board of Directors of the General Electric Company, created on his retirement and now desires to announce the 'Charles A. Coffin Foundation.'"

Hats off to the People who Produce your Electric Light and Power

The Charles A. Coffin Foundation confers a special citation for distinguished wartime achievement on the ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER INDUSTRY

"Faced with unprecedented demands, the Electric Light and Power Industry has met every war-production requirement without delay and without impairment of its peacetime services to the public. This achievement merits the appreciation not only of American industry but of the entire nation."

—FROM THE CITATION

THIS CITATION is richly merited—for here is a branch of industry that has done a remarkable war job that has not been generally recognized.

If electric power should fail, or if it be too little or too late, the disastrous effects would startle all America. Vital machines would be motionless. Millions of homes would be cold—and an eerie blackout would descend over the land.

But, electricity has not failed. Rather, in 1943 twice as much power was produced as in the year before the war—with the minimum of new facilities—and despite large losses of skilled employees to the Armed Services.

In the words of J. A. Krug, Director, Office of War Utilities of W.P.B., "Power men—public and private—should be proud of the job that has been done in providing power supply. Power has never been too little or too late."

We of General Electric, who have built a large part of the electric equipment which generates, distributes, and uses the electric power of America, take pride in the way this equipment is standing up under the strain of "forced draft" wartime operation.

Many of the men and women responsible for this remarkable record are your neighbors—the manager or meter reader who lives across the street, the girl in the accounting department who is in your bridge club, the lineman with whom you bowled last night. A word of appreciation from you to them will lend added significance to this well deserved citation. General Electric Company, Schenectady, New York.

Let's Not Be Saps Again

I have just read an authoritative article in LIFE concerning the Tragedy of Versailles, showing how President Wilson, filled with the highest ideals, permitted the United States to be gutted from just under the chin to a point considerably below the navel by the British Premier Lloyd George who had a most realistic policy. Britain's traditional policy, followed consistently for over 300 years, has been to thwart any effort to permit any European power to become too strong. At the peace conference, the French premier was primarily concerned with crippling its great enemy, Germany, to the extent that Germany would never be able to rise again to invade France. Britain, however, did not want France to get too STRONG or to get Germany too WEAK, hence their opinions clashed constantly. BEFORE the peace conference, Wilson layed no groundwork for his idealistic schemes, and when he left for the conference, the suggestion that he have at least two members of the minority party (then the Republican party) with him, was rejected. He "sprang" upon his realistic conferences his great schemes, and he had not beforehand "sold" his ideas to the United States Senate, the body which would have to approve whatever he did.

As a result of Wilson's failure to lay any groundwork, Great Britain as usual carried off most of the spoils, receiving Germany's colonies in Africa, control over vast areas in the Middle East, all German islands below the equator, some territory in North Africa, and many other valuable concessions; France received concessions in Indo-China, scraps of territory in North Africa, Alsace-Lorraine and, I believe the Ruhr Valley; Italy, which came in "for the kill," as she did in this war, got a few concessions; while the United States of America received the privilege of paying for the war.

The mistakes made by President Wilson should be red flags warning President Roosevelt against repeating the mistakes of the past. He should put in Uncle Sam's claims BEFORE the war ends. He should see that the islands which American blood and American treasure bought in the South Pacific shall remain American territory. He should see that the United States gets title to territory occupied by airfield and ports built by American men and money. He should get his head out of the clouds and get it down on a level with those of Churchill and Stalin—the latter two being most realistic in the matters pertaining to their countries' future welfare. Roosevelt should produce and proclaim a hard-boiled, realistic and selfish policy for the United States, and, do it BEFORE the war ends. Mr. Churchill has plainly stated that he "was not appointed as His Majesty's First Minister for the purpose of presiding over the liquidation of the British Empire," in other words that he did not intend to give up a damn square inch of territory. He is eternally right. He has poured the treasure of the Empire and the blood of Australians, Indians, Canadians, New Zealanders and some Englishmen into the struggle, and he or his successor (who will inevitably follow the traditional British policy) will be at the peace conference with both hands out, grabbing everything grabbable. This is not to the discredit of Mr. Churchill who is but looking after his own country's interests.

In the last War the United States was the Pollyanna of the world—just wanting to do its good deed, and permitting at Versailles the planting of the seed of the present gigantic struggle.

The United States should quit wet nursing the dictatorships (called republics) of South America where its Good Neighbor policy has been little but buying temporary friendship. Friendship between nations, as somebody said, is but the result of intelligent self-interest of each friend. President Washington in his Farewell Address told us not to look for DISINTERESTED friendship from ANY nation. He was eternally right. The bought friendship of the South American countries will turn to hatred as soon as Uncle Sam quits "putting out." Some U. S. Senator recently PROVED that the United States had literally thrown away about six billion dollars in South America. No doubt the people of those countries already look upon the United States as a big sugar daddy and have little love, but much contempt, for this country. Any permanent friendship between the United States and the South American countries must be a result of the intelligent self-interest of the parties concerned and not thru the workings of an international WPA.

The United States at the outbreak of the war was, save for its crippled fleet, a helpless baby among the giant fighters. It now has the largest navy, one of the largest armies, and the greatest productive capacity of any nation on earth. We, therefore, are able to speak like the powerful lion. We can tell where we stand and, if necessary, whip our allies into line. We do not have to win the war, pay for the war, then get not a damn thing at the peace table, and should not do it.

The reader should recall that, as the American capture the islands in the South Pacific, British civil administrators move in.

Cutting Off The Water

A good way to stop folks drinking too much water is to cut off the water. A good way to stop a government agency or department from spending too much money is by cutting the appropriation.

I note from an article from Washington that Congressmen Whitteu and Abernethy and Senator Jim Eastland are trying to cut the navy appropriation for building naval air training bases when the army is steadily abandoning such bases.

Of course, if left to the Navy, it would not take an Army base under any consideration (and vice versa). The Navy would find a thousand or two faults with the Grenada Army Air Base, now abandoned by the Army, but would spend, if available, three or four millions of dollars to build a brand new base no better.

To the taxpayer it looks absolutely absurd for the Navy, who needs more bases, to refuse to take over surplus army bases, but that's the way it is between the ground forces and the sea forces.

The gentlemen named above are using the only method possible to cause the Navy to take over the Grenada army air base, or any other army air base.

It is idle to say Grenada is too far from the sea, since one of the larger of the naval air stations is at Millington, Tennessee, over 100 miles from the further than Grenada is.

It Does Not Look Right

It does not look right to us that the OPA permits a landlord to rent a "nice" room, accessible to bath, for $10.00 per week or about $43.00 a month; andh reduced from $40.00 per month to $30.00 a month a five-room house with bath, a house upon which the owner reports having recently spent $2,500.00 in repainting, repapering and general overhauling. The owner reports that the City assessments have been raised on the house.

Either a "nice" room is too high or the house is too low.

"CAPTAIN" LEMON GOES TO WAR

Yes, a "fighting" man in every sense, the California lemon has gone to war on all fronts—the battle, industrial, civilian. Since the days of sailing ships, when lemons were eaten to prevent scurvy, the waxy, yellow fruit has been gaining recognition on all sides until now it is called the "all-purpose fruit." California lemon trees are literally "pedigreed" stock. The careful culture of the fruit starts when selected seed is planted in the nursery. Usually these are orange seed, since it has been determined that orange root stock is harder than lemon. When the young trees have attained a height of about 12 inches or are about a year old, they are "budded" with buds from lemon trees known to be good producing stock. Thus, the small tree that started from an orange seed is transformed into a lemon and remains so for the rest of its life.

Vitamin Instead of Bombs

The war has increased the need for good health, since healthy civilians and soldiers are needed to wage a winning fight—Lemon juice, in fresh, concentrated or powdered form, is used in large quantities by the military to maintain the proper amount of Vitamin C in the diet. Vitamin C plays an important part in combatting fatigue and in performing that role in civilian life as well as the military.

What's good for the fighting man and defense worker is also good for the housewife, the office employee, the farmer and every other civilian—including hard-studying, hard-playing child. Every one gets tired, and that's true now more than ever before, because we're being called on to do more now than ever before. A cool pitcher of lemonade may give just that extra lift that every one needs every now and then.

RETREAT OF FATIGUE

Lemons probably have more uses than any other fruit. They can be used as a food and a flavoring, for garnish, salad dressings, desserts and pastries; as a delightful beverage, as a potent cold remedy, as a laxative, as a stain remover, a skin rejuvenator, a hair rinse and a lemon garnish brings out the flavor of most green vegetables. Lemons are used with tea, for lemon sauces, for lemon cream pie... Lemon and fish go together like bread and butter.

Visit our Lemon Department and leave old man fatigue sitting on the sidewalk crying.

JESUS URGES HIS DISCIPLES TO WATCH

LESSON TEXT: Mark 13:34-37. GOLDEN TEXT: Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh.—Mark 13:35.

God has a plan, and even now when men seem to have turned all order into chaos, we know that God is working out His purpose. The important crisis in that plan of God which we now await is the return of Christ, His second coming.

He will come secretly to call His own Church, the Bride, to Himself, and then He will come openly, in great glory, when every eye shall behold Him. Then His enemies shall be confounded, and His eternal kingdom be established.

We look for His coming, but while we wait (and it may not be long!) we are to occupy for Him until He comes. Our lesson tells men

1. What to Expect While Waiting for Christ (vv. 3-9).

First, we note that we are to expect the coming of false teachers and false Christs, who will claim to be the fulfillment of the prophetic Scriptures. We need only one admonition concerning them, "Take heed (that no man lead you astray)."

There have always been such false leaders who for the prominence or gain afforded them are willing to offer bewildered mankind all sorts of panaceas whereby it is supposed to solve its problems. It seems that these men increase in numbers when great crises, such as war, come upon the nations. Do not be misled by them. Just because a man seems to be devout and professes to be interested in Christ's return does not make him a dependable teacher.

Are not these the very ones Jesus warned against? They must meet the test of all of God's Word.

Christ warns believers that before the end of the age there will be world-wide war, earthquakes in many places, and famines. These are to be expected, and will come. But here a word of caution is needed. We must not seize upon present events and rush out for info print and tell people that "this is it!"

We should be alert in relating world events to the teaching of Scripture, but let us "make haste slowly." But let no one assume that the need for caution justifies him in ignoring either the Word or world events. We are to be alert; well informed, spiritual and ready.

II. What to Do While Waiting for Christ (v. 10).

Preach the gospel! That is our first and most important business. Our Lord said that the whole world was to be evangelized before the end came. Please note carefully that He did not say that all nations will be saved, but that they will hear the gospel.

That is our responsibility—to see to it that every nation has a full and free opportunity to hear the blessed gospel message. We have not done it, and the failure of the Church at that point is a dark blot on its record.

There seems to be a revival of interest in the work of missions now, and there are many who believe that at the close of this war almost the entire world will be open for Christian missionaries. This will probably be true for a limited time only, and it is the urgent business of the Church now to prepare the missionaries who will then be needed.

And in the meantime we should all be busy about the all-important matter of teaching and preaching the gospel. It is the best preparation for the coming of Christ and the thing we would want to be doing when He comes.

III. How to Live While Waiting for Christ (vv. 31-37).

There should be an air of expectancy constantly characterizing the Christian. We are looking for Someone—yes, a very definite and glorious One—our Lord Himself.

We do not know when He will come (v. 33). That is a matter hidden in the eternal counsels of God the Father, a secret into which angels do not pry, and which even the Son did not know. Why then do foolish men attempt to learn it? Beware of any man who sets a date for Christ's return or for the end of the age. He is setting himself up as being superior to Christ, and you can be sure that he is an impostor.

We do not know the day, but of the fact we are sure. Christ is coming again! So we are to be watchful as we wait. God has not called us to stand idle, looking for the dawning of that glorious day. We are to be about His business, but everywhere and always, wide awake and looking for Him.

That kind of a believer (and all believers should be that kind) will pray. We are to "watch and pray." They go together. The one who prays will watch. The one who watches will pray. Possibly some of us are not praying because we have fallen asleep and no longer watch for His coming. Then too we probably fell asleep because we did not pray.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

American Fleet, Planes Strike Truk, Major Japanese Naval Base in Pacific; Tighten Deferment of Farm Workers; Allies, Nazis Trade Blows at Anzio

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

PACIFIC:

Strike Westward

Two years and two months after the Japs' assault on Pearl Harbor, U. S. air and sea forces struck back at the enemy's own big Pacific base of Truk in the Caroline Islands, central hub of Jap naval operations for their extended empire reaching into the Philippines and Indes.

Preceding the attack on Truk by several hundred planes operating from carriers shielded by a strong armada of battleships, cruisers and destroyers, long-range Liberator bombers plastered the other big Jap bastion of Ponape in the Carolines.

Centrally located in Japan's Pacific empire, both Truk and Ponape serve as a radiating point for enemy naval and air forces to operate against an attacking force while close to home stations. Loss of the Carolines to the Japs would mean loss of their advantage of operating close to defensive bases, and, vice versa, give the Allies the advantage.

As the Liberators took to their wings to plaster the Carolines, U. S. ground forces were putting the finishing touches to fighting the Marshalls where small-islet garrisons were being rooted out, and in the Solomons, where Allied landings to the north trapped 23,000 Japs holding out on Bougainville, Buka and Choiseul.

FARM WORKERS: Draft Shakeup

Only those farmers who can produce 16 war units a year will be eligible for agricultural deferment, and the 700,000 farmers now in 3-C for dependency as well as occupational reasons, also will be reclassified and put into 2-C only if their work is essential.

More than 1,000,000 farmers are in 2-C, of which 400,000 are said to be single and under 23 years of age. With the 700,000 presently in 3-C, 1,700,000 farmers considered essential will be put into 2-C and given six-month deferments, with their cases again reopened at the end of that time.

Action on farm workers' cases followed general tightening up of draft regulations in the face of military demands for about 1,000,000 more men by July 1, with city dads no longer deferrable for dependancies and industrial deferments subject to stricter standards.

RUSSIA: Finns Talk Peace

Russian troops made further gains along the Estonian border on the north end of the 800 mile eastern front, while reports indicated that the Finns were sounding out Moscow for peace terms.

As the Russ continued to chew into Nazi defenses below Leningrad, the Germans fell back to avoid encirclement from the rear, and each step backward found them closer to Estonia and the other Baltic states of Latvia and Lithuania.

Russo-Finnish peace reportedly hung on terms Moscow might offer, with the Finns receptive to proposals based on the 1940 border, but opposed to occupation of their military and naval strongholds by the Reds.

With the Russ again in possession of much of the mining region of the southern Ukraine, Finland remained one of the last sources of nickel for the Germans, and Hitler reportedly sought to prevent Finland's desertion of the Axis to protect these deposits.

EUROPE:

Beachhead Battle

With the sea at their backs, U. S. and British troops traded heavy blows with the Germans on the Anzio beachhead below Rome, as the big battle for the Eternal City raged.

While other Allied troops crawled forward up rugged mountain slopes about Cassino, the forces at Anzio fought with tanks on level terrain, countering the full weight of the enemy's famed panzer units.

In assaulting the beachhead, the Germans concentrated on the northern sector, 16 miles above the port of Anzio, through which supplies were streaming to Allied forces.

Bloody fighting continued on the Cassino front, with doughboys taking one by one concrete houses made into fortified pillboxes by the Germans, and other Yanks struggling up monastery hill to gain command over Nazi positions and the supply road leading to Rome, which lay below.

CONGRESS: Ban Subsidies

With congress voting against continuance of subsidy payments to reduce retail prices of meat, butter, milk and other food items, GOP House members served notice that if the President vetoed the bill they would attempt to make it part of the measure to extend price control after June 30, thus forcing the President to accept it or kill his whole anti-inflation program.

To assure continued existence of the Commodity Credit corporation in the event of a presidential veto of the subsidy clause, congress wrote in an emergency provision extending its life until permanent legislation could be passed.

In voting against consumer subsidies, congressional foes of such payments said they could only save the average family about 11 cents a day, during a time when national income was at an all-time level. Advocates of subsidies, however, said abolition of such payments would bring about a 7 per cent increase in the price of the foods affected, and a 3 per cent rise in the general cost of living, leading to a clamor for higher wages.

Bucks Labor Draft

While congress was voting down consumer food subsidies, AFL President William Green told a senate military committee holding hearings on the Austin-Wadsworth labor draft that wage stabilization in the face of increasing living costs was the principal cause of strikes.

Said Green: "The way to prevent strikes is through upward revision of wage rates, or even more effectively, by rigid reduction and control of prices of the necessities of life."

While Senator Austin (Vt.) contended that a labor draft would reduce turnover in war plants and allow the War Manpower commission tighter control over job placements, Green said the act would amount to involuntary servitude, since civilian workers would have to take jobs in plants operating at private profit.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

HICCUPS: A 21-year-old New York city girl, hiccupping for 44 days, appealed to the President to obtain a furlough for her physician, who is a captain in the army. She said that the doctor saved her life two years ago by a delicate operation, when she was suffering from another prolonged attack of hiccups. The President granted a leave for the officer to treat her.

CENTENARIAN: George W. Camerer, a veteran of the Civil war, who now lives in Jerseyville, Ill., has just reached his 100th birthday. He said he "wouldn't mind joining the army and going to Africa if his feet would hold up." He has 16 grandsons, two great grandsons, and a granddaughter serving in the armed forces in the present World War II.

ON THE HOME FRONT

WE KNOW that the Eighteenth Century is often called the golden age of the cabinet makers. The English cabinet makers, Chipendale, Heppelwhite, Sheraton and the Adam brothers, flourished then. The furniture types of their day have become standard with us. Visitors to the reconstructed village of Williamsburg, Va., are often surprised to find that Venetian blinds were the fashion long before the Revolution, and the well tailored canvas lined valance used with floor length chintz draperies also seem modern to them. Yet these were the curtain styles when ladies and gentlemen wore powdered wigs. Valances were made just as we make them today and were tacked to a valance board in pretty much the same manner as is shown here.

NOTE—This is the second of a series on modern adaptations of period curtain fashions. Another version of the shaped type of valance is given in BOOK 5 of the series of ten booklets on sewing for the home. To get copy of Book 5 send 15 cents direct to:

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

A gallon of latex is about one-third rubber and two-thirds water.

OR-5, the synthetic rubber now used in civilian fire manufacture, requires more time in being fabricated at factories. With the equipment and labor shortage, this means that the industry has a tremendous problem ahead of it to make the 30 million new tires scheduled for 1944.

Back in 1823, when rubber shoes were shipped here from Brazil, they were wet inside according to sizes for left and right feet. Just thick rubber coverings that were stretched over the regular leather shoes. They were solid in winter, gooey in summer.

And more of them now in a hurry

So when the lights get dim on Long Distance, remember the

That's to help make people get

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

(Written from Hot Springs)
I hope the folks will keep Horn out of devilment while I am away, and will let the old lady look after the GCW instead of trying to save the country.

Kent and Frances and Ralph Semmes are over here somewhere, but at this writing, I do not know where. I hope they do not get into any devilment, and know they will not if Frances says. If not, the possibilities, indeed the probabilities are great.

I really heard some deep, dark latrine stuff about Camp McCain over here, and it is just as reliable as that you hear there in Grenada. The best thing to do is to disregard ALL rumors. Spreading rumors is playing into the hands of Hitler, etc.

Fishing season for the fish with tails, scales and fins is over for a few weeks, but the fishing for the two-legged fish is NEVER over.

Wonder how Will Criss is getting along.

Our payrollers will soon be home.
Some of them may get lynched.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work--do not act as Nature intended--fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, swelling of ankles, feet, legs, puffiness under the eyes, feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, itching or the frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that proper treatment is what that sufferer, the Dean's Pills, Dean's have been winning new friends for more than forty years.
They have a nation-wide reputation.
Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!
